Ask Me Anything..

Hi everyone, I'm Cristina, and I am excited to share that we are launching a new internal podcast. It will be a two-way conversation where you can hear from us, and we can hear from you.

In each episode, I'll be answering questions asked by you and other team members. You can ask me anything (AMA); any topic, from company strategy and direction to career highlights or leadership insights.

This is your chance to hear directly from me and the leadership team to get the answers you've been curious about and hopefully feel more connected to where we're headed together. I'm looking forward to hearing from you!

Feedback will be filtered to the most constructive and logical place. If a point raised is immediately actionable, it might be featured in the "You Said We Did" feedback posters rather than a discussion point in a podcast.
